

Staff Specialist

Supervisor of Training - Pain Medicine

Tasmanian Health Service

Persistent Pain Service

Royal Hobart Hospital

A position as Supervisor of Training working up to 76 hours per fortnight is available at the Royal Hobart Hospital (RHH) Persistent Pain Service. The Royal Hobart Hospital Persistent Pain Service is the tertiary referral pain service in Tasmania and is accredited for two years of Pain Medicine Training.

The Persistent Pain Service consists of Specialist Pain Physicians with primary specialties including rheumatology, anaesthesia, and psychiatry; nursing staff; allied health including physiotherapy and psychology; and administration staff. Procedural interventions and pain management programs are conducted by the Persistent Pain Service.

The RHH is Tasmania's largest hospital and the major referral centre servicing a population of approximately 240,000 people.

As the major centre of clinical teaching and research, it has a strong collaborative relationship with the University of Tasmania and other institutions. A comprehensive range of general and specialty medical and surgical services are provided including many state-wide services such as cardiac surgery, neurosurgery, extensive burns treatment, hyperbaric medicine, neonatal and paediatric intensive care and high risk obstetrics. Critical care services are often the patients' first point of contact and are divided into intensive care services and emergency medicine services. As a major tertiary referral centre we have facilities including MRIs, PET scanners, a Paediatric ICU, and a hyperbaric chamber.

RHH has fantastic residents' quarters, a staff gymnasium, and the "Feel Better" health and wellbeing program which includes support for green initiatives.

Hobart is the State's capital and is the largest city in Tasmania. There are many historic buildings, parks and gardens, museums, galleries and markets, cultural events and festivals, great food and produce, bushland and spectacular scenery and great proximity to other attractions. Hobart offers many lifestyle advantages and choices, short distances make it possible to live in rural tranquillity while commuting to a city job or to relax on an uncrowded beach or pursue more active pursuits outside of working hours.

We offer:

- A salary commensurate with qualifications and experience
- Superannuation and salary packing
- Relocation assistance
- Motor vehicle and associated expenses
- A supportive and dynamic work environment
- Access to teaching, education and research funds
- Strong professional and social networks

Further Information:

Contact Dr Cameron Gourlay, Supervisor of Training on (03) 6166 7871 or email cameron.gourlay@ths.tas.gov.au.

Apply Online: www.jobs.tas.gov.au

Closing Date: 5 November 2017

Vacancy No: 521777

