

Specialist Pain Physician- Supervisor of Training

A position as Supervisor of Training, up to 0.7 FTE, is available at the Royal Hobart Hospital

Persistent Pain Service, Royal Hobart Hospital

The Persistent Pain Service at the Royal Hobart Hospital is the tertiary referral pain service in Tasmania and is accredited for 2 years of Pain Medicine Training.

The Persistent Pain Service consists of Specialist Pain Physicians with primary specialties including rheumatology, anaesthesia, and psychiatry; nursing staff; allied health including physiotherapy and psychology; and administration staff. Procedural interventions and pain management programs are conducted by the Persistent Pain Service.

The Royal Hobart Hospital

The RHH is Tasmania's largest hospital and the major referral centre servicing a population of approximately 240,000 people. As the major centre of clinical teaching and research, it has a strong collaborative relationship with the University of Tasmania and other institutions.

A comprehensive range of general and specialty medical and surgical services are provided including many state-wide services such as cardiac surgery, neurosurgery, extensive burns treatment, hyperbaric medicine, neonatal & paediatric intensive care and high risk obstetrics. Critical care services are often the patients' first point of contact and are divided into intensive care services and emergency medicine services. As a major tertiary referral centre we have facilities including MRI's, PET scanners, a Paediatric ICU, and a hyperbaric chamber.

RHH has a fantastic residents quarters, staff gymnasium, and the "Feel better" health and wellbeing program which includes support for green initiatives.

Living in Hobart Contact

Hobart, the State's capital is the largest city in Tasmania. It has many historic buildings, parks and gardens, museums, galleries and markets, cultural events and festivals, great food and produce, bushland and spectacular scenery and great proximity to other attractions. Hobart offers many lifestyle advantages and choices, short distances make it possible to live in rural tranquillity while commuting to a city job or to relax on an uncrowded beach or pursue more active pursuits outside of working hours.

Contact

Dr Cameron Gourlay
Supervisor of Training

cameron.gourlay@ths.tas.gov.au

0361667871