RELATIONSHIPS PORTFOLIO

Appointment of new ANZCA CEO

Ms Linda Sorrell has been appointed as the ANZCA CEO commencing 19 September 2011. To read the media release click here.

Bupa Health Foundation Submission for GP Education

Development of this initiative is progressing well with the first meetings of the Steering Committee, Curriculum Development Committee (CDC) and Technology/Adaptation Committee (TAC) occurring on 12 August in Melbourne. The CDC comprises of 3 FPM representatives and 6 GP representatives, two of whom are also Faculty Fellows. The focus of this group is to seek opinion and agree upon the top 10 topics for consideration. This will finally be narrowed down to six topics for development in GP on-line program format. The aim is to prepare primary care practitioners to better deal with the burden of pain. Opportunities will be explored in the future to develop and modify this initiative to reach other groups.

These groups will next meet on 14 October at ANZCA House.

Royal Australian College of Surgeons Pain Management Section

The Pain Management Section of the Royal Australasian College of Surgeons has been officially recognised by RACS Council, and Terms of Reference for that section have been established. Nominations are now being sought for those interested in pain and an Executive is to be convened shortly. Liaison between the FPM and the Section will also be established at an administrative level and reports will be exchanged regularly.

National Pain Strategy

Medicare locals are now being formed, the first 15 commenced in July with others to follow in January and July 2012, to a total of 62. Painaustralia is working to ensure that Pain is represented by both clinicians and consumers where possible in these reforms.

A Consumer Reference Group has been formed to ensure that Painaustralia consults with and involves consumer groups in the development of policies, priorities and actions. Painaustralia commenced circulation of a Newsletter in June 2011.

Painaustralia has developed the Painaustralia Newsletter with the aim of keeping members informed of developments in implementing the National Pain Strategy and to alert them to events and activities. Please click here to read the latest news.

Occupational Health and Safety

New OH&S laws will be effective from 1 January 2012. The new laws have expanded definitions for employers and employees (now workers) to include a broader range, including volunteers. The College is planning a communications campaign on this issue to raise awareness of responsibilities under the new laws.

Regional News

Queensland

The Persistent Pain Health Services strategy in Queensland Health has progressed and is being developed by the Queensland Statewide Persistent Pain Steering Committee, Chaired by Prof Julia Fleming. See the full Board Report for further details.

New South Wales

The new NSW Minister for Health and Medical Research, Jillian Skinner, has set up a Taskforce to report on an appropriate model of care for chronic pain in NSW by September 30. The Taskforce has asked the NSW Agency for Clinical Innovation Pain Network for recommendations by 1 September. Included in the submission will be a request for funding toward the National Pain Outcome Initiative.

South Australia

The interim committee last met on 30 May to discuss a range of local and general issues including barriers to training in pain medicine, communications with Fellows and other bodies and plans for regional education. The next meeting is planned for 31 October. An election is planned for early in 2012.

Victoria

Victorian Fellows have agreed in principle to form a Regional Committee and plans are now underway to form a committee and convene a CME evening on 14 December 2011.

Chronic Pain Services in Victoria Receive a Funding Boost

Victoria's Department of Health commissioned a review of the provision of chronic pain management services in Victoria. The review was undertaken by Aspex consulting, whose final report was produced in late 2009. The report outlines a number of recommendations to further strengthen the model of care, consolidate funding streams and improve access particularly in rural and regional areas. The Department has been actively working with health services to implement a number of the recommendations.

In the 2011/12 financial year the department has again increased funding for chronic pain management clinics in Victoria which are now part of Subacute Ambulatory Care Services (SACS), this time by $2.35M per annum. The increase in recurrent funding will be allocated with the aim to reduce waiting lists, improve access and strengthen models of care at the ten existing service. It will also allow five new services to commence in metropolitan and regional areas. Over the last two years there has also been a consolidation of a variety of funding streams and now the chronic pain services will all be within the SACS framework with a unified funding mechanism and minimum dataset reporting. Recently commenced quarterly chronic pain clinic coordinator forums will facilitate networking and communication among service providers and enhance communication between service providers and the Department.

Inaugural ANZCA Media Award

Media in Australia and New Zealand have been invited to participate in the inaugural ANZCA Media Award. A prize of $5000 will be awarded for the best news story or feature about anaesthesia or pain medicine that appears in print, on radio, on television or online in 2011. Entries will be judged on their originality and the impact they may have had in giving the community a better understanding of anaesthesia or pain medicine. For more information, click here.

Quality and Safety

The National Inpatient Medication and Adult Deterioration Detection System Charts: Notes of Caution

Pamela E Macintyre, Jane J Trinca, James B Sartain, Stephan A Schug, David A Scott

The National Inpatient Medication Chart (NIMC) and the Adult Deterioration Detection System (ADDS) Chart have both been developed under the umbrella of the Australian Commission on Safety and Quality in Health Care (ACSQHC) with the aim of improving patient safety.

However, we believe that caution is needed when prescribing and titrating prn opioids for the management of acute pain and therefore in the use of these charts.

New Zealand application for specialty recognition

The Stage Two application was submitted to the MCNZ on the 29 June 2011. There are three further steps to occur before vocational scope recognition is confirmed by MCNZ.

- Panel members have recently been appointed by the MCNZ Education Committee based on nominations from branches related to our scope of practice. The panel will assess the application documentation and prepare a report for presentation to the Education committee.
- The Education Committee will meet in November and will make a recommendation to Council and we will be advised of the outcome
- If Council approves the application they will publish by notice in the New Zealand Gazette the new scope of practice and its qualification(s).

Continuing Professional Development

ANZCA - and thus the Faculty - now has a Mandatory Compliance Policy for CPD. This policy states, "Fellows of FPM need to demonstrate compliance with the CPD program of the Australian Medical Council or Medical Council of New Zealand approved college of their primary specialty and/or the ANZCA CPD program in order to receive ANZCA CPD certification.”

The previous issue of Synapse included an article addressing registration as a Specialist Pain Medicine Physician, maintenance of that registration through continuing professional development (CPD) and the question of “parity” with other physicians. Please click here to read the full article – 'PROFESSIONAL NOTES FOR 'SPECIALIST PAIN MEDICINE PHYSICIANS'.

Medicare Locals- Implications for Community Pain Services

The Australian Government's primary health care reform is now underway with the launch on 1 July of 19 Medicare Locals – the first of a total of 62 to be formed nationally. The reforms are designed to make it easier for patients to access the services they need, by better linking GPs, nursing and other health professionals, aged care and eventually hospitals within local communities. The advent of Medicare Locals provides opportunities to improve management of pain at a local level.

To view the remainder of the article, click here.

Medicare Telehealth Advisory Group

Telehealth was introduced on 1 July 2011, enabling patients located in general practices, eligible residential aged care facilities and Aboriginal Medical Services and other facilities to 'see' specialists without the time and expense involved in travelling to major cities. This presents a good opportunity for the practice of pain medicine. It is only in support of video-consultations, not telephone alone. The Faculty will have representation at the fourth Advisory Group meeting, scheduled for 25 August.

Acute Pain Management: Scientific Evidence 4th Edition

Professor Stephan Schug has accepted the role of Chair of the Working Party for the development of the 4th edition, due for publication in 2015.

National Pharmaceutical Drug Misuse Strategy

The Faculty's submission on this strategy had been compiled out of consultation and other individuals had been encouraged to respond. An outcome is imminent. The Faculty will also have representation at the Expert Reference Group meeting on 5 September in Melbourne.

Pharmaceutical Benefits Advisory Committee (PBAC) Opioid Stakeholders Meeting

A Faculty submission regarding PBS-subsidised opioids was sent in early May. The outcome of the July PBAC meeting at which this issue was to be discussed is awaited.

Pain Device Implant Register

Initial enquiries have been made with the Data Management and Analysis Centre (DMAC) at the University of Adelaide with respect to the possible establishment of a pain device implant register with a focus on implants and their performance. DMAC are the team responsible for running the Australian Orthopaedic Association National Joint Replacement Registry. The Faculty supported further development of this project.

Australasian Guidelines for Neuromodulation in chronic Pain

The Faculty of Pain Medicine has recently published Professional Document PM9 (2011): (Spinal Cord Stimulation) in the Management of Patients with Chronic Pain addressing the difficult and controversial issue of spinal cord stimulation (SCS) in the management of patients with chronic pain. “Difficult” because neuromodulation not only requires much clinical acumen and technical expertise but also is invasive, very expensive and labour-intensive. “Controversial” because evidence of efficacy is difficult to generate, as controlled studies very difficult to perform. The Faculty document is based on a review article authored by eight Fellows: Leigh Atkinson, Raj Sundaraj, Charles Brooker, James O'Callaghan, Peter Teddy, John Salmon, Tim Semple and Max Majedi [Review: Recommendations for patient selection in spinal cord stimulation. J Clinical Neuroscience 2011; 18: 1295 - 1302]. The literature identifies three broad categories of indications for SCS, by likelihood of response. Conditions likely to respond include “failed back surgical syndrome”, refractory angina pectoris, complex regional pain syndrome, and neuropathic pain secondary to peripheral nerve damage. Conditions that rarely respond include pain associated with spinal cord damage, central pain of non-spinal cord origin, spinal cord injury with clinically complete loss of posterior column function, and perineal or anorectal pain. In the grey area of possible response are pain associated with peripheral vascular disease, brachial plexopathy, axial pain following surgery and intercostal neuralgia such as post-thoracotomy. Apart from the skill of the implanting team, selection of subjects is the key to success. The Professional Document and the Review summarise indications and contraindications for SCS, provide guidance on selection and timing for referral, and discuss the benefits and complications associated with the procedure.

The Board noted that NZNC nominations, Dr Kieran Davis and Dr Christopher Jephcott, have been appointed by the Board of PHARMAC to the Analgesic Subcommittee of PTAC for a 3 year term, ending 31 July 2014.

Re-activation of Australia New Zealand Therapeutic Products Agency (ANZTPA) announced

The Prime Ministers of New Zealand and Australia recently agreed to the phased establishment of a joint Australia-New Zealand Therapeutic Products Agency (ANZTPA). ANZTPA will progressively establish common regulatory arrangements for therapeutic goods and a single trans-Tasman entry point for business.

The new agency will regulate medicines, medical devices and new medical interventions. A single regulatory framework will provide health benefits for consumers, reduced regulatory costs for industry and greater efficiency for governments. Please click here for the more information.

Pain Management Interventions for Hip Fracture

Pain following hip fracture has been associated with delirium, depression, sleep disturbance, and decreased response to interventions for other disease states. Therefore, it is important to treat and manage complaints of pain adequately during acute treatment for hip fracture. Furthermore, poorly managed postoperative pain is associated with delayed ambulation, pulmonary complications, and delayed transition to lower levels of care. <http://www.effectivehealthcare.ahrq.gov/index.cfm/search-for-guides-reviews-and-reports/?pageaction=displayproduct&productid=676>
